

OUTREACH OFFICER

The Army Flying Museum at Middle Wallop in Hampshire tells the story of British Army Flying from the earliest attempts to conduct operations with gas filled balloons in the late 1800s to today's Army Air Corps which has operated with distinction around the world including combat operations in Iraq and Afghanistan.

We welcome about 60,000 visitors to the site each year, a number that is steadily increasing. We have recently completed a £2.4m National Lottery Heritage Fund project which significantly improved the museum and allowed us to develop the range of activities we offer. Following the Covid-19 pandemic, this is a critical time for the museum and the Outreach Officer is key to our commitment to expand and diversify our audience and ensure that we are as accessible as possible.

We are looking for an enthusiastic Outreach professional to join our team and help inspire our communities with the story of Army aviation. This is a varied role and, although we already have excellent links across Hampshire and Wiltshire, there is huge scope for someone to put their own stamp on the programme of work. If you thrive on being out and about, but also want to be part of a dedicated and innovative team spreading the amazing stories from the Army in the air, then you could be the person we are looking for!

SALARY: £20,000 (£25,000 FTE)

HOURS: 30 hours per week (some evening and weekend work will be required and flexible working will be considered).

CONTRACT: Permanent (subject to a 6 month probation period)

How to Apply

Applications consisting of a cover letter (no more than 2 pages) detailing your suitability for the role and a current CV should be emailed to curator@armyflying.com or sent to:

Susan Lindsay, Curator, Army Flying Museum, Middle Wallop, Hampshire, SO20 8FB
